

Master Thesis Supervisor's Expert Opinion

Student: Sharmine Tatenda Jazi
 Student Number: E22826
 Title of Master Thesis: Usability and Accessibility Considerations as an Approach of Geoportals Improvement
 Aim of the Thesis: The aim of this thesis is to examine how usability and accessibility concerns can support geoportals improvement, stressing the significance of user-centred design principles and accessibility standards. Two geoportals will be compared from the point of view of their usability using a suitable method, and their usability problems will be identified.
 Thesis Supervisor: Komárková Jitka, prof. Ing. Ph.D.

Other Comments on the Thesis

The author proved that she was able to solve the given task by following the instructions provided by the supervisor and was able to apply previously learned knowledge and appropriate methods. The aim of the thesis was fulfilled.

I appreciate the student's approach to the thesis processing. The student came to consultations very well-prepared and respected the supervisor's instructions. The student had to deeply understand the principles of usability evaluation prior to proposing the evaluation procedure applied in the thesis.
